

“OPEN YO EYES”

No Jive Productions presented its feature show “Open Yo Eyes” on Saturday, September 18, 2004 at the Joseph Caleb Auditorium. The show was a huge success selling over 700 tickets!

“We like to give back to our communities by using local talent right out of our backyards.” states President/CEO of No Jive Productions, Inc. Mr. Nial Martin

With a lot of hard work, dedication, sweat and tears, local Floridian Actors and Actresses showcased their talents in this eye raising production. Local actor Kwame Riley playing Elroy (left) does And So I Sit—”as I sit I see this world slowly falling apart. I sit and watch this world being destroyed by the hate that hate produced and the fear that comes along with it.” Another local actress Crystal Pittman playing Big Momma (right) does Domestic Violence—”That’s when it happened, that bastard jumped on my child and beat her like a man with a closed fist like some man on the streets. What a crying shame, but you know how that story goes, he apologizes and she forgives him so once again in her eyes he could do no wrong.”

TESTIMONIALS FROM AUDIENCE

- “Educational” — Christopher Catrell James Hodges Jr.
- “Believable” — Ms. Gathers
- “Informative” — Tony Davis
- “Exhilarating” — Alicia Simpson
- “Awesome” — Betty Martin
- “Uplifting” — D.B.

- Stimulating — Andrew McDonald
- Refreshing — Mike Brown
- “Motivational” — Ms. Lee

This is Just the BEGINNING!

HURRICANES CHARLES AND FRANCIS

Everything was going smoothly, according to plan, when a tropical storm began forming off the coast of Africa. As days went by, the tropical storm grew stronger forming into the hurricane named Charles. Rumors of hurricane Charles hitting South Florida paraded through the air, television stations, and radio waves causing concern and worry.

No Jive Productions, Inc., along with the rest of South Florida, was threatened by Mother Nature, creating two hurricanes (Charles and Francis) which put everything and everybody in an uproar. “Should we postpone the show? Who should we call?” were just a few questions going through the minds of the cast and crew of “Open Yo Eyes”. No Jive Productions, Inc. was prepared for the worst. Thanks to the quick response of our staff, emergency meetings and phone calls were made for preparations of postponing the show and moving it to another date and time. Due to the hurricane threats, No Jive Productions had to cancel vital rehearsal time which forced the cast and crew of the show to go into major overdrive.

Surprisingly, the threat of Mother Nature’s fury wasn’t as damaging as we expected. So No Jive Productions immediately got on the phones contacting the STARS of show. On that note, No Jive Productions, Inc and the entire cast and crew of “Open Yo Eyes”, continued their routine of preparing for the show which finally took place at the Joseph Caleb Auditorium on Saturday September 18, 2004.

“OPEN YO EYES” GOES ON TOUR

CARLOS A. HARRIS SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT

This has been No Jive Productions, Inc third time presenting “Open Yo Eyes” in the south Florida community now its time to take the show on the road. With your support this will happen. We have received positive feed back from all walks of the community. Cities to visit: Orlando, Jacksonville, Tallahassee & Tampa. This will be the beginning of our first tour.

Let me be the first to say JOB WELL DONE to all the cast and crew for “Open Yo Eyes”. With the exit interviews, everyone were asking for more and when the next show will take place. A few school teachers wondered when the show will take place for their schools. So with that in mind, No Jive Productions, Inc will have show for Dade and Broward county schools. Help us make this happen by sending in your donation.

SPECIAL THANKS

Commissioner Betty T. Ferguson
Cultural Affairs Council
Florida Marlins
Publix Super Market
WEDR 99 Jamz
Piccadilly

Law Office of Stanley B. Lewis P.A.
Walt Disney World Company
Catch My Thrift
Think Thrift
Miami Dolphins
Cast (The Kids) & Staff of No Jive

Send Your Donation Today. We Can’t Do it Without YOU!

Donations
16300 NE 19th Ave, Suite 201
North Miami Beach, FL 33162
Or Call with your Credit Card
305-944-7714

Seeking Board of Directors for 2005-2006 Term

We are seeking Board Members for our upcoming term 2005-2006. We are seeking individuals within the community who wants to preserve the arts. Call 305-944-7714 for more information.

Buy your copy of the show. $15.00
Call 305-944-7714

Seeking Grant Writer send resume to:
jobs@nojiveproductions.com

Seeking interns for upcoming tour. Call 305-944-7714 for more information.